Small Business Administration (SBA)

---

- The U.S. Small Business Administration is offering designated states and territories low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). Upon a request received from a state's or territory's Governor, SBA will issue under its own authority, as provided by the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act that was recently signed by the President, an Economic Injury Disaster Loan declaration.

- Any such Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance declaration issued by the SBA makes loans available to small businesses and private, non-profit organizations in designated areas of a state or territory to help alleviate economic injury caused by the Coronavirus (COVID-19).
- SBA's Office of Disaster Assistance will coordinate with the state's or territory's Governor to submit the request for Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance.
- Once a declaration is made for designated areas within a state, the information on the application process for Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance will be made available to all affected communities as well as updated on our website: SBA.gov/disaster.
- SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans offer up to $2 million in assistance per small business and can provide vital economic support to small businesses to help overcome the temporary loss of revenue they are experiencing.
- These loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that can't be paid because of the disaster's impact. The interest rate is 3.75% for small businesses without credit available elsewhere; businesses with credit available elsewhere are not eligible. The interest rate for non-profits is 2.75%.
- SBA offers loans with long-term repayments in order to keep payments affordable, up to a maximum of 30 years. Terms are determined on a case-by-case basis, based upon each borrower's ability to repay.
- SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans are just one piece of the expanded focus of the federal government's coordinated response, and the SBA is strongly committed to providing the most effective and customer-focused response possible.
- For additional information, please contact the SBA disaster assistance customer service center. Call 1-800-659-2955 (TTY: 1-800-877-8339) or e-mail disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.
- Visit SBA.gov/disaster for more information.

United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)

A comprehensive list of USDA actions and resources in response to COVID-19 can be found here (<https://www.usda.gov/coronavirus>). Answers to frequently asked questions related to food safety, access to food, pet safety, USDA loans, and USDA service centers can all be found on that website.

- H-2A/Agriculture Labor: On March 17, the Department of State announced they will be suspending routine immigrant and nonimmigrant visa services until further notice. A State Department Representative stated they will continue processing H-2A visas, but they will be prioritizing applicants that benefit from Interview Waiver provisions, such as returning workers. This information was reiterated by USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue, who noted a process for new enrollees is being worked out and the Department of Labor also needs to issue guidance, as DOL is the third agency involved in the operation of the H-2A program. Farmers with may send questions about H-2A to the USDA via this email – AgLabor@usda.gov. USDA has also created an H-2A resource page - <https://www.farmers.gov/manage/h2a>.
- Farm Service Agency: Farm Service Agency Kentucky Director, Brian Lacefield, stated FSA offices will remain open to serve producers in Kentucky. Producers are encouraged to call their local FSA office to make an appointment before coming for an in-person meeting.
- Meal Deliveries for Rural School Students: USDA announced it will be partnering with private vendors to provide food boxes to rural students. The food delivery system will prioritize students who do not currently have access to an approved meal distribution site under the Summer Food Service Program and who live in an area with an active outbreak of coronavirus. For more information about the program or if you are a vendor or you know of vendors who would like to partner with USDA to provide meals, please reference USDA's press release (<https://www.usda.gov/media/press-releases/2020/03/17/usda-announces-feeding-program-partnership-response-covid-19>).
- Farm Credit Administration: FCA, an independent federal agency which oversees a network of government-backed lenders for the agriculture industry, has called on institutions to work with borrower whose operations are affected by COVID-19. FCA Board Chairman Glen Smith said lenders can extend the terms of loan repayments, restructure debt obligations, and ease some loan documentation terms for certain borrowers. <https://ww3.fca.gov/news/Lists/News%20Releases/Attachments/606/NR-20-04-03-17-20.pdf>
- Livestock Haulers – Hours of Service Exemption: The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, which is part of the Department of Transportation, has issued a temporary “hours of service” exemption to livestock haulers. The exemption will be effective until at least April 12. Drivers who desire to drive under this exemption are encourage to print out, read in its entirety, and keep a copy of the Expanded Emergency Declaration (available here) in their cab at all times. The Livestock Marketing Association received guidance from the Office of the Secretary of Transportation that all livestock movement fits these exemption definitions.
