A full evening of entertainment for the whole family, crowd-pleasing musicians and the largest display of fireworks in Southeastern Kentucky will make Red, White and Boom the place to be in London, Kentucky on Saturday, July 2. The annual July Fourth celebration will be held at College Park off the Ky. 192 Bypass behind the Laurel County Public Library. It has been a popular place to hold the event because of its ability to host huge crowds, and because the fireworks cast beautiful reflections on a large pond at the park. Red, White and Boom and the Wellness Park are both funded and supported by the City of London Tourism. The event is held in conjunction with Somerset Community College-Laurel County Campus.
